

ALEXANDRIA.

MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 18.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says, that the debate in the Senate on the Reconstruction bill "showed some of the wildest vagaries of the run-mad radicals. Mr. Tipton, for instance, one of the new Senators from Nebraska, who is a minister of the Gospel, is not satisfied with the enfranchisement of the male negroes, but declared that to break forever the "rebel" power, he was in favor of giving the ballot to the African women. Mr. Nye knew that a "rebel" could not be washed clean of his sins in a hundred years, nor in all time, and they should never again be admitted to share in this government. Mr. Fowler, of Tennessee, was equally as decisive on this point. The old leaders of the republican party, such as Messrs. Trumbull and Fessenden of the Senate, and Bingham, of the House, never imagined, when they inaugurated the crusade against State rights that such doctrines as are now boldly advocated would ever be whispered. They have sown the wind and must now reap the whirlwind." There are hundreds of men in private life, who have encouraged the Radical movements, who will yet bitterly repent their course, when they see, as they will see, the results to which they will lead.

The Charleston Mercury comes to the following conclusion upon the present status of affairs: "There is no need to give up an atom of our self-respect; there is no need to give up one memory of that blessed past, to which we have so long clung; but the military law is the law for us; and, until that law be repealed or modified, it is the law which the people of the South must obey. No one but a madman would counsel mere physical resistence to the law. Obey we must; and it is better to do this without any exhibition of bitterness or illfeeling .--Our only plan now-the only plan that can avail us-is to make a merit of necessity.

In the debate in the Senate, on Saturday, on the Supplementary "Reconstruction" bill, Mr. Sumner denounced the States to be created under the bill, as "born of the bayonet." This expression seemed to be particularly obnoxious to some of the Radical Senators, as, they asserted, it would be used against the party. On the question whether Congress is committed at all to a plan of reconstruction by the Military Bill of March 2, the difference of opinion among the Senators was very decided. The "Supplementary" bill having passed the Senate amended, it goes back to the House.

Gen. Schofield has certainly no reason to complain of the manner in which the news of his appointment as Military Commander in Virginia has been received by the press and people of the State. He is spoken well of, and the language used towards bim, is that of respect; and a desire is every where expressed to respond to the recommendations made by him, in assuming command, with regard to the preservation of peace and good order.

Efforts are being made to send provisions to the South. The Baltimore and Philadelphia Railroad Company will receive provisions along the line of its railroad, and furnish cars if duly notified, and bring the corn and meat to Baltimore without charge. Arrangements will be made in Baltimore to send these provisions South without charge. It is believed that similar arrangements can be made along all the lines of railroads.

- The majority of the Senate of Virginia seem to be acting recently under some undefined influence upon their judgments and feelings, which leads them, we think, to ill judged action .-There seems to be a kind of haste, in sending commissioners to Washington, in tendering cooperation, &c., &c., which is strange, to say the least of it.

The Capitol police force in Washington is to be re-organized, and no man is to be appointed who does not take the "iron-clad oath with the Congressional Temperance Society pledge attached." The "oath," and "swearing" business seems to be revived. Some of the Radicals in Congress remind one of the Ghost in Hamlet-"SWEAR!"

Mr. Trumbull, in the Senate, on Saturday, asserted that he had no doubt that there were Senators present who were working to defeat the "Reconstruction" bill, because they did not intend to let the Southern States back: thus incautiously acknowledging the justice of a charge which has heretotore been so strongly denied.

John Mitchel, now residing in Richmond, writes a letter, in which, whilst he expresses his sympathy for the cause of Ireland, he disapproves of the Fenian movements, at this time, as premature, hasty, and not likely to the question of ratification of the new State mittee on Resolutions. Senate bill to incorporfacilitate the object intended.

The action of the Legislature on the "constructive mileage" business, is very severely censured by most of the newspapers of the State. We are sorry that the Legislature consented to recognise the legality of the claim.

"Mosby and his Men."-A record of the adventures of Col. J. S. Mosby, of the late Confederate army, including the exploits of Smith, Chapman, Richards, Montjoy, Turner, Russell, Glasscock, and the men under them, by J. Marshall Crawford, of Co. B. This is a handsome volume, just published, containing a spirited narrative of the military career of the famous partizan ranger and the men under his command daring the late war. It will be read with much interest. Received and for sale by Geo. E. French, at his bookstore, King street.

GOLD. NEW YORK, March 18.—Gold to-day, 1342. poned. NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the times."

A disturbance took place at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, on Friday evening, the cause of which is not very clearly stated, between some of the citizens and soldiers from the cavalry barracks. Fire arms were used on both sides, and several killed or wounded. A man named Hammitt, who appears to have commenced the attack was on Saturday was that a general rising of Feshot dead. Two of the soldiers were wounded, nians would take place in Ireland on St. Patone mortally.

It is expected that the House will to-day pass the supplemental reconstruction bill as it comes from the Senate, though there are some republican members opposed to some of its features. If it be passed to-day, the President will act upon it promptly by either signing or sending it back to Congress with his objections, so that an adjournment may take place this week.

Attempts are being made to send rations from Nashville to Chattanooga, but the railroads are inundated and the bridges carried away. Thousands of acres of farming land have been rendered almost useless by the deposits of mud and sand made upon them by the overflow, and crops have been washed out of the ground.

Accounts continue to come in from the West of the late disastrous freshets. The Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, White and Arkansas rivers, and many smaller ones, have overflowed their banks and inundated immense tracts of land on both sides of them.

Gen Joseph Markle died on Friday at Pittsburg, aged 92 years. He was a prominent Old Line Whig, and was defeated for the Governorship of Pennsylvania in 1842 by Shunk. He was a soldier in the whiskey war in 1798, and in the war of 1812.

Charles F. Eames died on Saturday afternoon, in his 55th year, after a protracted illness; He was a distinguished member of the bar and about a month ago he was overtaken by illness while addressing the bench of the Supreme Court.

The first Congregational Church, Boston, was entirely destroyed by fire on Saturday morning. The loss on the building and con tents is estimated at $25,000, which is insured for $17,000. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

It is said that Mr. Stevens will soon make a confiscation speech-to-morrow, if he is able. He has been quite ill for some days. His confiscation bill excites much comment, but has in good faith, is having the salutary effect in no chance of being enacted.

LETTER FROM RICHMOND.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] RICHMOND, March 16.—The general orders promulgated by General Schofield, appear to meet with general satisfaction in this community, as well as with the members of the Legislature. The Convention bill passed by the Senate, sleeps in the House, that body seeming not disposed to take action. What is termed the berm bank or Canal railroad, has passed the House and gone to the Senate. I am un-able to say at present what will be the action of late action of one branch of our Legislature in the House and gone to the Senate. I am unthat body. The bill the legislation of Congress." It may be added was introduced by Mr. Bentley of Loudoun, it that the Radicals are commenting on the acwas argued at length by Mr. Bentley in favor, and Mr. Turner of Rappahannock, in opposition upon constitutional grounds. The bill passed the House by ayes 61, nays 11, thus showing the ability and popularity of the member from Loudoun. I learn from the members of the Legislature that that body may adjourn next Monday, to take a recess till the middle of CONGRESS.-In the Senate, on Saturday, House joint resolution relative to the coin and bullion claimed by the Richmond banks, now on special deposit in the Treasury, with an amendment providing that the bullion shall be converted into coin under the authority of the Treasurer, was taken up and passed. The Senate then went into Committee of the Whole and took up the Supplementary Reconstruc-tion bill. A long discussion ensued, in the course of which a number of amendments were proposed. The only amendments, however, which were adopted were as follows: An amendment providing that the constitution shall be adopted when voted for by a majority of the votes cast at the election, and an amendment providing that at least one-half of the The resolution from the Senate, about "waiting registered voters shall be required to vote on on' Gen. Schofield, was referred to the Com constitutions. At 7. 15 P. M. the committee rose and reported the bill to the House. The bill was then amended so as to provide that a vote shall be taken in each State for and against the holding of a State convention; the result of the vote shall decide the question, and that a majority of the registered voters shall be ne cessary to legalize the election; that the States shall be required to provide in their amended constitutions that at all elections by the people the voting shall be by ballot. An amendment was also adopted changing the oath contained in the first section of the bill. An amendment was offered by Mr. Sumner providing for the establishment of a system of free schools, but was rejected. The bill was then passed, by a land, voting in the affirmative. EUROPE. LATEST BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Our advices by the cable are to yesterday .-The British Government has sent troops to Liverpool in apprehension of an Irish rising there, but no disturbance had taken place up to yesterday and the city was entirely quiet. Large numbers of Fenians had been captured in various parts of Ireland and were to be tried for high treason. The expectation in London rick's day, but if any movement of the kind were to take place, the Government, it was believed, would be able to suppress it before it assumed any formidable proportions. The emigration from Cork to the United States had been extremely large during the last few days. Many of the emigrants were recognized as being concerned in the recent Fenian uprising in

Killarney. The Servian question has been settled and Turkey has promised to hasten the reforms in favor of the Christians in Candia and also throughout the Turkish dominions. Marshal Bazaine and the last of the French troops that were sent to Mexico left Vera Cruz on the 10th

> THE COMMISSION TO WASHINGTON.-In the Senate of Virginia, on Tuesday, Mr. Bolling, from the special committee to visit the city of Washington, and confer with the Government there, presented the following

To the Senate of Virginia:

Your committee, acting under a resolution appointing them to confer with the Government at Washington as to whether the convention proposed to be called by the General Assembly of Virginia, be considered and recognized as a legal mode of holding a convention under the act of Congress passed March 2, 1867, have the honor to report that they repaired to Washington, were politely and kindly received by the authorities, and invited by prominent members of Congress to make suggestions of amendments to the pending question before Congress-being a supplementary bill to the act aforesaid-which suggestions they made, and if adopted will materially soften its terms and render them more con-

Your committee entertain the opinion that a convention bill passed by the General Assembly of Virginia-so far as in conformity to and not in conflict with the act of Congress aforesaid-would be recognized by the authorities as tending to produce barmony.

Your committee are further satisfied from their interviews with the authorities at Wash ington that the demonstration made by the Legislature of Virginia, in favor of framing a constitution as required by law, promptly and softening the asperity of prevailing opinion, and changing the tone of sentiment towards the people of the State; and that the desire expressed was, that we should, at once, comply sentatives in Congress. (Signed,)

GEO. W. BOLLING, Chairman; E. F. KERN. JOHN H LEE. A. S. GRAY.

Mr. Onld stated he had refused to sign the report for two reasons. In the first place, he did not think it proper for a committee of the Senate to make a recommendation to affect the action of the House of Delegates upon a sub jeet new pending before that body, and upon which the Senate had already acted. In the second place, he had not in Washington discovered any reason why a convention bill should be passed by the General Assembly, or how any action on its part would in any manner influence the action of Congress.

Messrs. Bolling and Gray, addressed the Senate in explanation of the report, and detailing the proceedings of interviews at Wash-

Mr. Lee said he had reluctantly signed the report, but believed it to be the policy of Virginia to be conciliatory.

Mr. Mercier addressed the Senate at some length in regard to the report of the committee, and proposed to go into secret session. On motion of Mr. Gray, the report was laid on the table and ordered to be printed. |Speaking of this very extraordinary report of the majority of the Commission-extraordinary in more senses than one-the Richmond Enquirer says:—"It is due to facts to say, that the President is believed to be quoted your city thought that three-fourths of the the impression received by some of the gentlepeople were in favor of the measure. > GENERAL ASSEMBLY .- In the Senate, on Friday, the bill disposing of the State's interest in the Alexandria, Loudoun and Hampshire Railroad was read twice and referred. The bill to prevent drunkenness and disorder at elections, was passed. A resolution appointing a committee "to wait on" Gen. Schofield, and tender him co-operation, &c., was passed. Senate bill to authorize the Southside railroad company to extend their road to a connection with the Covingtion and Ohio Railroad, was taken up and passed-ayes 22, noes 1. Senate bill No. 27, to authorize the Virginia Central Railroad Company to use temperarily that part of the Covington and Ohio railroad, east of

The bill relating to the consolidation and paying interest on the public debt was further discussed.

MORTGAGES-THE BANKRUPT LAW. - Does the bankrupt law set aside deeds of trust or other liens upon property?

Clearly not, where there is no design to defraud other creditors, nor to evade the provisions of the law itself. On the contrary, the creditor holding a mortgage which does not cover the whole debt due him may come in pro rata with other creditors for the balance due

METHODIST PROTESTANT CONFERENCE. The request from Alexandria Station that it be left unsupplied for the coming year has been referred to the committee on missions. The place and time for holding the next annual conference were fixed at East Baltimore Station, second Wednesday of March 1868.

THE BANKRUPT ACT .- Having a complete copy of the law before us now, we find that it embraces not only the bankruptcy of individuals and partnerships, but, by the 37th section, the provisions of the law are extended over all moneyed, business or commercial corporations and joint stock companies. All these bodies, like individuals, may be forced into bankrupt cy, at the instance of any of their creditors, whenever they shall evade the service of legal process, "or shall conceal or remove any of their property to avoid its being attached, taken, or sequestered on legal process, or shall make any assignment, gift, sale, conveyance, or transfer of their estate, property, rights or credits, either within the United States or elsewhere, with intent to delay, defraud or hinder their creditors, or when, being bankrupt or insolvent, or in contemplation of bankruptcy or insolvency, they shall made any payment, gift, grant, sale, conveyance, or transfer of money or other property, estate, rights, or credits, or give any warrant to confess a judgment or procure or suffer their property to be taken on legal process, with intent to give a preference to one or more creditors, or to any persons liable for them as endorsers, sureties or otherwise, or with any intent to defeat or delay the operation of the bankrupt law, or who, being a banker, merchant or trader, has fraudulently stopped or suspended, and not resumed payment of his commercial paper within fourteen days.' When such person or corporation is declared bankrupt, the assignee may recover back the money or property so paid, conveyed, sold or assigned contrary to the act, and the creditor participating in the fraud is excluded from all dividends out of the bankrupt estate.

These provisions against dishonest dealings by individuals and corporations seem to be very comprehensive and complete, and to make every reasonable provision against the corrupt practices of trade, which have done so much to confound the guilty with the unfortunate. Hereafter it will be impossible for a corporation, bank or individual to stop or suspend payment, and defy creditors. At the expiration of fourteen days dishonored commercial paper must be met, or the bankrupt assignee will prevent the perpetration of further mischief, the wasting of assets, and will take from the too-willing friend who has been accessory to false credit all the collaterals with which he has hedged round his own safety at the expense of others .- Balti-

Virginia Municipal Elections Suspended. RICHMOND, March 17.-General Schofield has suspended the municipal election at Fredericksburg. It is probable that he will do the same all over the State, and the old officers will hold over.

In the final proceedings in the Senate, on Saturday, on the Supplementary Reconstruction bill, the Conservatives (with the exception of Mr. Johnson who voted for, and Messrs. Buckalew and Hendricks who voted against it, refused to take any part. They neither discussed the propositions made, nor voted on the tinal passage of the bill.

The Lynchburg Republican says: "It is considered that at no previous period of the world's history was there ever a wider difference between "is" and "ought to be," than at the present time."
